3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Reassessing the United 5 States-Tanzania Bilateral Relationship Act”.

6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

7 Congress makes the following findings:

8 (1) Tanzania is one of Africa’s fastest growing 9 economies with strong economic growth over the 10 past decade due to the expansion of key sectors, in-11 cluding agriculture, mining, and tourism.

1           (2) Tanzania’s reliability as a partner to the 2 United States is increasingly in question due to on-
3 going political repression, violations of religious free-
4 dom and freedom of expression, and persistent bar-
5 riers to United States investment.

6           (3) The October 29, 2025, general elections
7 were marked by significant political interference, in-
8 cluding ballot manipulation and vote tabulation
9 irregularities, which favored incumbent President
10 Samia Suluhu Hassan and other candidates of Tan-
11 zania’s parliamentary majority party, Chama Cha
12 Mapinduzi (CCM).

13           (4) Leading up to the general elections in Tan-
14 zania’s October 29, 2025, election, multiple incidents
15 of political abductions and disappearances occurred
16 in Tanzania, most recently the abduction and subse-
17 quent disappearance of Tanzanian Ambassador
18 Humphrey Polepole on October 6, 2025.

19           (5) A range of actions by the CCM, a political 20 party that has continuously held a parliamentary
21 majority and controlled Tanzania’s central govern-
22 ment since the CCM’s formation in 1977, has se-
23 verely undermined democracy in the country.

24           (6) The ongoing treason trial of Chadema oppo-
25 sition figure Tundu Lissu, terrorism charges against

1 Chadema Deputy John Heche, and charges and de-
2 tentions of other opposition party members are po-
3 litically motivated and intended to prevent opposi-
4 tion figures from standing for elections.

5 (7) The Government of Tanzania has engaged
6 in violations of religious freedom, including the rev-
7 ocation of registration for religious institutions, har-
8 assment, detention, and attacks against religious 9 leaders, and restrictions on religious worship and ex-
10 pression.

11 (8) During mass citizen protests against Tanza-
12 nia's fraudulent and illegitimate October 29, 2025,
13 general elections, the Tanzanian Police and Tan-
14 zania Defense Forces killed hundreds of Tanzanian
15 citizens and endangered the lives of United States
16 citizens and tourists visiting the country.

17 (9) While protestors faced attacks by Tanza-
18 nian Security Forces, the Government of Tanzania
19 imposed an internet shutdown impacting online con-
20 nections, communications, business, and banking,
21 disrupting regional trade and costing the country an 22 estimated $238,000,000 in the process.

23 (10) In response to this unprecedented violence
24 and unrest in Tanzania, the United States Embassy
25 in Tanzania issued a Security Alert on October 30,

1       2025, calling on United States citizens in Tanzania
2       to shelter-in-place.

3               (11) Following the electoral protests, the Tan-
4       zanian electoral commission released disputed results
5       from the fraudulent election, declaring President
6       Samia Suluhu Hassan the winner with 98 percent of 7       the vote.

8               (12) On December 4, 2025, the Department of 9       State announced a comprehensive review of the bi-10      lateral relationship between the United States and 11      Tanzania.

12 SEC. 3. SENSE OF CONGRESS.

13       It is the sense of Congress that—

14               (1) the actions by the Government of Tan-
15      zania—

16                       (A) have subverted democracy;

20                       (D) have endangered the safety and secu-
21      rity of Tanzanians, tourists, and the diplomatic 22      community;

23                       (E) place United States national interests
24      in Tanzania at risk; and

1 (F) threaten to undermine regional sta-
2 bility and long-term bilateral cooperation be-3 tween the United States and Tanzania; and

4 (2) the United States—

5 (A) supports the decision to terminate
6 Tanzania's Millennium Challenge Corporation
7 threshold program;

8 (B) expresses solidarity with the people of 9 Tanzania;

10 (C) recognizes the unprecedented levels of 11 violence experienced in Tanzania; and

12 (D) supports calls for an international 13 independent investigation into the pre- and 14 post-election violence in Tanzania that will re-
15 sult in those who conducted violence against 16 Tanzania civilians being held accountable for 17 violations of internationally-recognized human 18 rights.
